Re CAME Rising Star Award 2022 – Certificate of Excellence

We are pleased to inform you that the Canadian Association for Medical Education (CAME) has called for nominations for the inaugural Rising Star - Certificate of Excellence. The objective of the Award is to recognize learners who have demonstrated a commitment and/or passion for medical education. This could be education research, curriculum or workshop development, leadership, advocacy, etc, that has had a positive impact for the health professions education community at their school or beyond.

The deadline for submitting nominations is November 16, 2021 12:00pm. Please submit your nomination(s) using the CAME Certificate of Excellence Nomination form to:

Office of the Vice Dean, Education
med.vdeoffice@ubc.ca

There are up to three awards at each Canadian medical school: 1 for medical students; 1 for residents/fellows; 1 for graduate students.

The CAME selection criteria include:

1. All learners who are engaged in medical education scholarship in each school are eligible. Recipients need not be members of CAME. Award category is based on time of nomination – for example, a graduate student who has defended before CCME, but was still in their program at the nomination deadline, is eligible for the graduate student category.
2. Recipients will have been engaged in medical education scholarship in a way deemed to be valuable within their medical school (teaching, assessment, evaluation, educational leadership, course or workshop or session development, education, research)
3. Recipients should not have already been nationally awarded for this contribution.
4. A nomination must be submitted (or co-submitted) by a CAME member. Submitting a name for this award is considered a CAME membership benefit. Click here for membership information.

We also draw your attention to three other awards administered directly via CAME:

Certificate of Merit

Ian Hart Award for Distinguished Contribution to Medical Education

Meridith Marks New Educator Award
